Your Chief Executive's review of the year

We've come a long way since our founder, Thomas Mason Daffern set up a building society for the people of Coventry in 1884. His idea of helping local people save for the future and borrow money to buy their own homes is still true to our purpose today.

As a member-owned organisation, we care about giving you great value and providing you with the best service. All while we enhance our financial resilience, make sure your money is safe and secure, and continue to make a positive difference in your local communities.

2024 was a great year, ranking as one of the best in the Society's long history.

While interest rates have remained high, our priority has been to balance the needs of all our members, offering you the value, service, and security you can rely on. And despite persistent inflation and higher interest rates, we continue to grow our savings and mortgages and deliver to you what is important.

We always want to make sure any decisions we make are in the long-term interest of the whole membership. That's why we decided to go ahead with our purchase of The Co-operative Bank, which I'm pleased to say we completed on 1 January 2025. I'm excited about what this means for us as a Society. Bringing our two values-driven organisations together will result in a mutually-owned business that's deeply passionate about its members, customers and communities.

It's important to note that as we welcome The Co-operative Bank into our family, it will add to our legacy and help to make us even stronger. You may have heard me say this before, but I believe there's a clear connection between mutual ownership and stability and security. Our business model allows us to deliver great value, service and support to you and your families today, while delivering the financial resilience that enables us to face the future with confidence. You can find out more about The Co-operative Bank on page 17.

In our 140 years as a building society, we've changed and evolved, but you have continued to be our priority. Our rich heritage has guided us, and I'm proud of what we've achieved.

This year, we've grown savings balances, while making progress in digitising services and improving capacity, convenience, and capability. We've recognised your trust in the Society with a range of loyalty savings accounts, as well as encouraging you to save for your needs.

For our borrowers, in 2024 we supported first time buyers to purchase over 7,000 homes. We've also continued to work closely with brokers through our intermediary business, providing great service so they can effectively and efficiently support their clients too.

I'd like to thank my colleagues for their hard work and dedication, and you, our members, for your loyalty, trust, and continued support.

Stephen Hughes

Chief Executive
6 March 2025

As a mutual, we look after our savers and borrowers

We were founded in 1884 to help the people of Coventry buy their own homes at a time when it was really hard to do so. We brought together a group of local people to pool their savings so they could purchase land and build houses. As the years went by, more and more individuals got involved, meaning savings could be used to help fund mortgages for other members, while property assets provided security for the savers.

We've been awarded a gold ribbon for customer experience by Fairer Finance (autumn 2024) for our savings and mortgages.

By looking after savers' money, lending it to borrowers, and then returning it to savers with interest, our ambition to be the best provider of mortgages and savings in the UK began.

You might hear us being referred to as a 'mutual' and this is why. Because we create a mutually beneficial relationship between our savers and borrowers.

Our decisions are based on what's best for you

We're owned by our members. And because we don't have shareholders, everything we do is based on your best interests. You tell us very clearly what you want - and that's great value, outstanding service and a Society that's safe and secure. Plus, our unwavering support for you, your families, and your communities.

If you're a saver, we look after your money and pay as much interest as we can, balancing the need for long-term resilience. Our income comes from the interest our borrowers pay on their mortgage.

If you're a borrower, this means we make sure your mortgage is affordable and offers good value, as well as providing support if your circumstances change.

We don't have shareholders, everything we do is based on the long-term interests of our members.

Proud to offer you value for 140 years

From day one, giving you long-term value has been one of our most important measures of success. Whether you're a saver or a borrower, our aim is to make you better off through life.

2024 has been a year that we've given back more interest to you than we have before. That means you've benefitted from consistent, competitive value through the products and services we've offered.

We've helped more first time buyers

That first step on the property ladder isn't easy. One of our goals has been to support first time buyers with their first mortgage.

To help, this year we launched our CV First Home Mortgages to reward new homeowners in CV postcodes with £1,000 cashback when their mortgage begins. We also continued to offer our First Home Saver, an account to help individuals 16 or over build up a deposit to buy their first home – with a £500 celebratory bonus if they choose to take out a mortgage with us.

2024 has been a year that we've given back more interest to our members than we have before.

...and we've helped all our other borrowers too

We've prioritised rates for existing customers who are coming to the end of their fixed mortgage, making sure they can take advantage of as good as, or better, rates than new customers. This has meant more than 80% of borrowers have chosen to stay with us for their mortgage.

We're trusted by 2 million people

This is a responsibility we take very seriously, which is why with us, your savings will always be in safe hands. Throughout the year, we've been quick to announce any rate changes and we paid an extra £401 million of member premium¹, which is significantly more interest than the market average. This is a record level for us, and our ability to offer this reflects both our commitment to mutuality and our underlying strength.

We've continued to be one of the largest cash ISA providers across the industry, offering a range of fixed and variable ISAs. Our Junior Cash ISA, which we designed for parents to save tax-free for their children, has consistently featured in best buy tables. We also rewarded our loyal members with exclusive access to a range of loyalty accounts.

This included our Loyalty Mortgage Saver, to help them build up a savings pot which also had a special overpayment feature.

In 2024, the Personal Finance Research Centre (PFRC) at University of Bristol did some research into understanding the role of savings in promoting positive wellbeing. They found that regular savers tend to feel more optimistic, are more satisfied with life, and sleep better². That's why we launched our Sunny Day Saver account to put a focus on saving for the moments that make life memorable.

Service that stands out

You're more than a member, which is why we've always done more than just look after your money. We're passionate about giving you excellent service every time you contact us.

This year we've reached more members than ever

We made great progress in digitising our service, launching our new mobile app, which now has over 140,000 users. Those users have enjoyed new functionality throughout the year, including the ability to apply for and open new savings accounts directly in our app. Members are also taking advantage of using Online Services to tell us what to do when their fixed savings rate comes to an end.

We're proud we can now offer you the ability and peace of mind to manage your money in a number of different ways – in branch, over the phone and through our evolving digital channels.

Fairer Finance have rated us most transparent for our savings (autumn 2024).

We're passionate about delivering the best service

We've continued to invest in our customer service to make sure you can speak to us when you need to. This year, across our branches, contact centre and head office teams, we've helped customers over 3.5 million times.

We've also reduced the average time it takes us to offer a mortgage from nearly 12 days in 2023, to just nine in 2024. This is all because of our new digital mortgage platform, which is making a significant difference to our efficiency, helping to improve service for you, our brokers and colleagues.

Maintaining the levels of service you value and trust

It's vital to us that you feel you can speak to someone when you need to. In December, we made changes to the way we verify who you are when you call, making it easier for you to get help quickly. On average, we answered your calls in 58 seconds in 2024¹ (that's 47 seconds quicker than in 2023²).

As we move forward digitally, we'll continue to offer you more choice and make it easier for you to contact us in a way that suits you. For example, we've now launched our new live chat function on the website and we'll be working on further improvements to our Voice ID functionality.

Continuing to evolve for a brighter future

While our service offering is continuing to evolve, the one thing that won't change is the warmth and professionalism our colleagues will always show when you get in touch with us. Our investment in our colleagues means they can provide you with dedicated support when you're dealing with difficult situations.

This shows why our service is rated so highly. In 2024, our Net Promoter Score³ was +79 (up from +76 in 2023) on average and peaked at +92 in branches.

Enhancing the resilience and security of our services

Protecting you and your money will always be a responsibility we take incredibly seriously.

Investing in our future

Safety is one of our top priorities, which is why we've continued to invest in our internal systems, transforming and upgrading them so they're in line with the latest technologies and regulatory requirements. One of our improvements this year was to implement a new fraud system to enhance the protection we offer you.

We've also been focused on improving our resilience. Our app has been a great piece of digital transformation for us, alongside our new mortgage platform, both of which have made a real difference to our efficiencies and the services we provide you.

We'll continue to upgrade and invest in our systems and new technology to improve our service, security and financial resilience.

Our investment in the future and technology will never stop. We'll continue to do more so we can generate real benefits for you in terms of our service stability and positive experience. This is something we know will become more relevant in the future.

Putting financial crime in the spotlight

Scams come in all shapes and sizes and criminals are always developing new ways to try and catch people out and get their hands on your money or your personal information. That's why at the Society, we act if we have the slightest suspicion of criminal activity.

This year, we've shared more information on the latest scams through our website and newsletters to help you stay one step ahead of criminals and learn how to spot something strange.

It's our priority to support and protect every member across our community. Cyber crime has no bias and even if you're financially savvy, we know that anyone can be targeted by fraudsters.

We're proud to support the national Take Five campaign

This aims to stop fraud and offer straightforward, impartial advice that helps prevent email, phone and online scams. Together with Take Five, last year we offered advice on financial protection from scams and fraud.

TO STOP FRAUD™

We're not just protecting you, we're protecting the environment too

Our environmental ambitions continue to propel us. As a certified B Corporation, we're part of a global community of businesses that are doing things differently to meet high standards of social and environmental impact.

We recognise that climate change is a critical issue and we're committed to helping address this challenge. In fact, our efforts to reduce our emissions by 34% in three years were recognised at the 2024 National Sustainability Awards where we won 'Carbon Reduction Programme of the year'. We're proud of our collaborative approach with colleagues, suppliers and members, especially when it comes to Scope 3 emissions.

You'll find full details of how we're reducing our environmental impact in the Sustainability section of our website.

Making a difference for you and your communities

We care about making life better, not only for our members and our employees, but also the communities in which you live and work.

Supporting young people to find a safe place to call home

In 2023, we started our partnership with Centrepoin. As the UK's leading youth homelessness charity, working with Centrepoin was an obvious choice for us and we're committed to supporting their goal of ending youth homelessness by 2037.

Last year, we donated £1.1 million through savings-related activity and colleague fundraising. These donations help fund:

- Centrepoin's national helpline
- Centrepoin Works
- Homeless prevention work in schools
- Coventry Youth Hub.

For more information about these initiatives, visit centrepoin.org.uk.

We're committed to supporting Centrepoin's goal of ending youth homelessness by 2037.

This built upon our annual £1 million donation, which in 2024, saw the creation of a new Youth Hub in Coventry, bringing together youth services under one roof for the first time. And with Centrepont already working closely with The Co-operative Bank, we hope this partnership will continue to grow. We were also delighted to make an additional £1 million donation at the end of the year to partially fund a new independent living programme in Manchester, the home of The Co-operative Bank.

Providing support so you can stay protected

It's not just young people we've supported – we continue to strive for strong local impact as well as national partnerships.

Our Milton Keynes branch collaborated with Elm Lodge Care Home¹ to raise awareness of fraud prevention to residents. They combined education and entertainment through fun learning that brought residents together for a game of bingo and an informative presentation. This is the first of many events we have planned to support senior members across our communities to understand power of attorney, bereavement and technology scams and how to stay protected.

Partnering with schools and charities in our home city and beyond, we offer support and create positive change for those who need it most.

Better Foundations

A place everyone can call home

Our partners help the most disadvantaged and vulnerable in our communities to keep a roof over their head and food on the table. We're funding organisations like Coventry Citizens Advice, which offers debt guidance, the Central England Law Centre, and the network of social supermarkets across Coventry who provide food and wraparound support. Our colleagues and members also support the communities we serve across the whole of our branch network.

Last year, our total community investment was

£4.5 million².

2. Total community investment made by the Society in 2024 has been determined in line with the Business for Societal Impact (B4SI) framework.

Better Futures

Supporting the skills to succeed

We support nine schools in some of the most disadvantaged communities in Coventry. We work with teachers and local authorities to learn exactly what kind of support is most helpful. Last year, we ran our Coventry Counts programme of literacy and numeracy support for six primary schools, and our Employability programme for three secondary schools. All our school programmes have financial literacy learning built in, to help equip young people with valuable life skills. We also continued our virtual Work Insights programme, so pupils in years 10–13 could find out more about careers in financial services.

Better Connections

Friendships and lifelines

Loneliness and isolation are common within our communities, especially for many over a certain age. Throughout 2024, we ran befriending events in conjunction with Age UK (Coventry and Warwickshire) and the Belgrade Theatre Trust. Guests who may have arrived alone have now formed a network of friends as well as learning valuable skills in managing money and protecting themselves from fraud. These social events are more than a mark on a calendar – they're something to look forward to, where new friends feel like family, and everyone is welcome.

Welcoming The Co-operative Bank to the Coventry Building Society family

On 1 January 2025, we officially completed our purchase of The Co-operative Bank.

Bringing together our purpose-led building society with the UK's original ethical bank is the start of an exciting journey for us.

From day one, we'll gain additional customers, mortgage and savings balances, a wider set of products and services, including current and business accounts. This will also include a more nationally representative branch network.

As we start to bring our organisations together, we'll keep you updated with everything you need to know. We're still going to operate as Coventry Building Society and The Co-operative Bank for the time being. This means there will be no impact on the way you use our services right now, but we will use our combined experience of almost 300 years to do more of the things that matter to you.

We'll continue to offer great levels of service, enhance investment to provide you with greater support, while continuing to keep your money safe and secure.

So, who are The Co-operative Bank?

Founded in 1872, The Co-operative Bank were born from the co-operative movement, and co-operative values continue to be a fundamental part of everything they do.

In 1992, they became the first UK bank to launch a customer-led Ethical Policy. Formed from issues their customers said were important to them, the Ethical Policy shaped their commitments, how they use and how they don't use customers' money.

Like us, The Co-operative Bank believes it's their duty to stand up for the issues that matter to their customers, and which bind their colleagues, customers and partner organisations together.

As we come together, we'll build on our combined common values and heritage to make our Society even stronger.

As we promised at last year's AGM, our priorities this year have been delivering value and security to savers, offering competitive mortgage rates, maintaining our exceptional record in customer service and modernising the business to keep it relevant to existing and future members by investing in our long-term future. Providing support to the communities we operate from was also a constant during the year.

‘Following the purchase of The Co-operative Bank, I’m excited to help bring our two organisations together. As we learn from each other, this is a fantastic opportunity for us to build an even better brand that at its core, gives great service to our members and customers.

I’ve worked in many customer-facing roles during my career, and I’ve always felt strongly that organisations should prioritise the long-term interest of their customers. It’s clear that when this happens, organisations produce better outcomes, not just for members and customers, but for colleagues too. The needs and goals of our members is always at the forefront of any discussion we have on the Coventry Building Society Board, and I look forward to building on these discussions as we join with the Bank.’

'Having worked for many years across financial services globally, it has been a complete pleasure to join the Society Board in the last year. When I performed my due diligence on the business to understand whether the Society would be aligned to my personal values, I received very positive feedback from customers and employees that made joining an easy choice. My specialism is technology and business transformation and the most effective businesses are always those that focus on outcomes; value for money, investing for the future, fostering strong culture and a laser focus on customer. It was with absolute delight after joining, to see that the Society lives and breathes these values. Specifically, the focus on delighting customers through great service, delivering value for money and supporting local communities runs through nearly every conversation. 'I'm proud of what the Society has achieved in 2024, our 140th year.

Providing exceptional service and great value are at the very core of what we strive to do. I'm delighted that our Net Promoter Score (NPS), the measure of our service, has increased from the already incredibly high +76 to +79. And the value we've returned to members has increased 17% to a record £401 million. This is only possible when the Society is financially strong, as evidenced by our leverage ratio rising to 5.7%.

At the Society, our culture is special. Colleague engagement is a real strength that we measure through our annual Great Place to Work survey. In 2024, we ranked 11th out of the 50 Super Large Organisations which is a fabulous testament to our colleagues. We'll continue listening to colleague feedback to make sure we keep getting better.

As we look to the future, we start a new chapter with the acquisition of The Co-operative Bank in a strong place and I'm excited by the opportunity this creates.'

Summary Directors' Remuneration Report

I am pleased to present a summary of our 2024 Directors' Remuneration Report. Our full Directors' Remuneration Report can be found in the Society's 2024 Annual Report & Accounts online at thecoventry.co.uk

This summary report contains information on how our Remuneration Policy for directors (that was approved by members at the 2023 AGM) has been applied during the year; together with our new forward-looking directors' remuneration policy and how the Society intends to implement the policy during 2025. We will be seeking an advisory vote on both the Annual directors' Remuneration Report for the year ended 31 December 2024 and the new directors' Remuneration Policy at the 2025 AGM. The directors' entitlement to remuneration is not conditional on the AGM vote. However, the Remuneration Committee intends to take account of your feedback.

Our policy for Directors' Remuneration

We have maintained a consistent reward structure for many years. In last year's Remuneration Report, I made it clear that the time had come to review these structures, notwithstanding the transformational acquisition of The Co-operative Bank. There is no doubt that this acquisition substantially heightened the need for change. Whilst we remain a mutual building society, the increase in scale brings significant additional responsibilities and requirements to our leadership roles. This includes the level of assets, the number of members, customers and colleagues, as well as the propositions offered by the combined group with all the implications for operational complexity, regulatory reporting, funding requirements and technological and operational integration.

This is why, at a time of transformation for the Society, we have taken the decision to review the policy out of our normal three-yearly cycle. By doing so, we are supporting the ambition enabled by the acquisition to secure the long-term future of the Society for the long-term benefit of current and future members and customers.

The Committee reviewed a range of market data and the positioning of our total remuneration relative to UK banking and building society peers and other firms (both listed and private) of a similar size and complexity. This showed that total remuneration, both base salary and variable pay, was substantially below market practice in the peer group and there was a need to increase each element for the executive directors of the Society.

Given the context for the review outlined above, the main elements of executive remuneration and the key changes to variable pay under the new Remuneration Policy¹ are outlined in the following table.

The Committee feels that the proposed changes to the Remuneration Policy address the gap highlighted by the review relative to our UK banking and building society competitors, and ensure that we continue to recruit, engage and retain the great people we need to sustain the performance our members expect.

1. Our Remuneration Policy and approach follows the Prudential Regulation Authority's Code on Remuneration Practices and we apply the relevant provisions of the UK Corporate Governance code where applicable.

Element	Operation
Base salary	Salaries of executive directors are set with reference to market rates of pay to enable the Society to recruit, retain and motivate high calibre leaders. Salary levels take into account experience, the economic environment, individual and Society performance.
Benefits and pension	These include a company car or car allowance, private medical insurance, life assurance and permanent health insurance. Executive directors may participate in the defined contribution pension plan or receive a cash alternative should contributions exceed the annual or lifetime allowance and this is reviewed by the Remuneration Committee annually. The Chief Executive and Chief Financial Officer receive 10% of base salary for pension contributions, in line with the maximum potential for all new employees.
Annual Incentive Plan (AIP)	The AIP will replace the annual Success Share bonus for executive directors from 2025 onwards. This rewards performance over a single financial year across a balanced scorecard of measures, as for the annual Success Share bonus. If the Society performs in line with its plans, the AIP scheme provides for an award of up to 50% of salary for executive directors. The maximum award of up to 100% of base salary at the date of grant can only be achieved by exceeding stretching upper targets for all measures.
Long Term Incentive Plan (LTIP)	The LTIP will replace the annual Executive Variable Pay Plan (ExVPP) for executive directors from 2025 onwards. The LTIP helps to recruit and retain high calibre executive directors, and rewards sustainable performance over the longer term in delivering the Society's strategy. Awards are made annually and only pay-out where appropriately stretching performance measures are met, normally measured over a three-year period. The LTIP scheme provides for an award of up to 50% of salary for executive directors for target performance and 25% at the threshold level of performance. The maximum award (up to 100% of base salary at the date of grant for executive directors) can only be achieved by exceeding stretching upper targets for all measures.

The Committee has also considered the importance of stable leadership and strong delivery of the integration of the Bank into the Society. Therefore in addition, for 2025 only, an Integration and Retention Award of up to 100% of salary has been introduced to retain and reward critical roles during a period of substantial change and in delivering the Society's strategy. The Society will measure the performance of the Award against the delivery of integration targets for each participant during 2025.

These changes mean that the Society's leadership has the potential to earn more. However, we are asking them to deliver more, with their roles expanding considerably in size, scope and complexity. The new combined Group is significantly larger, with approximately 6,000 colleagues and a balance sheet of around £90 billion.

Our performance in 2024

The Society's balanced scorecard contains nine measures which are aligned to the business strategy and have equal weighting. This approach has member outcomes at its heart and protects against excessive risk taking. Despite the challenging market conditions in 2024, the Society delivered a strong and disciplined performance. The Society exceeded against six of the nine performance targets which determine variable pay, performed in line with three measures and did not perform below target against any measures, as summarised below:

Performance measure	Performance target range	Performance result	Performance relative to target range
People and societal impact
Employee Engagement ¹	76% - 80% Trust (Recognised)	83% Trust (Recognised)	Exceeded Target
Environmental, Social and Governance measures	Qualitative and quantitative assessment ²		Assessment against these outcome measures rated overall as Achieved Target

Mortgage balance growth	Par share (1.6% / £0.8bn) +/- 0.25%	3.0% / £1.5bn	Exceeded Target
Net Promoter Score ³	+73 - +77	+79	Exceeded Target
Savings Rate Premium	0.60% - 0.70%	0.88%	Exceeded Target
Key capability delivery
Programme initiatives and key capability delivery ⁴	Qualitative and quantitative assessment		Assessment against these outcome measures rated overall as Exceeded Target

Cost / income ratio ⁵	48% - 54%	50%	Achieved Target
Profit before tax (£m) ⁵	£275m - £325m	£349m	Exceeded Target
Mortgage balances in arrears (%) ⁶	0.20% - 0.25%	0.25%	Achieved Target
Individual objectives
3 main individual objectives	Chair of Board / Chief Executive assessment

1. The 2024 engagement survey was provided by Great Place to Work (GPTW) Trust Index Score. The GPTW employee engagement score reflects the assessment as a large sized company.
2. More detail can be found in the sustainability section within the Strategic Report of the Annual Report & Accounts.
3. Net Promoter Score (NPS) is a measure of customer advocacy that ranges between -100 and +100 which represents how likely a customer is to recommend our products and services.
4. Programme initiatives and key capability delivery are assessed against delivery and financial measures by the Board Technology Oversight Committee.
5. Calculated excluding acquisition and integration related costs.
6. Percentage of mortgage balances where arrears are more than 2.5% of the balance.

Remuneration Summary for Executive Directors

Base salary

The approach to setting base salary for executive directors is outlined on page 31.

The market review of executive directors' total remuneration relative to our peer group highlighted that the total remuneration, both base salary and variable pay, currently sits substantially below market practice in the peer group. Consequently, it was acknowledged that the base salary increases detailed in the full Directors' Remuneration Report for the executive directors would be required to start to close this gap to market. These increases also took into account the performance and growth of the Society in anticipation of the acquisition of The Co-operative Bank and the increased size and scope of executive roles.

Variable pay

Given the performance outlined, the Committee considered the vesting outcomes reflected the underlying business performance and risk appetite of the Society with an appropriate level of variable awards and determined an annual Success Share bonus of 16% of base salary for all eligible employees, including executive directors, from a potential maximum of 20%.

For recipients of the ExVPP the performance metrics are split 70:30 between collective performance as determined by the outcome of the balanced scorecard, and individual performance as determined the achievement of up to three strategically aligned individual goals. The individual goals are used to increase personal accountability for the delivery of key strategic targets. The Committee awarded an ExVPP bonus of 51.6% of base salary to executive directors from a potential maximum of 60%.

1. Base salary is the actual salary earned in the year and will differ from the current salary effective from 1 April.
2. Pension allowance includes both contributions to the Group's defined contribution pension scheme and cash payments in lieu of contributions.
3. The remuneration shown for Peter Frost is up to the date he stepped down from the Board on of 27 April 2023.

Deferral and retention

Success Share and ExVPP payments to executive directors are made in cash and are subject to deferral rules which are in place to enable reduction and repayment of awards in the occurrence of unusual events in compliance with the Remuneration Code.

In 2024, all executive directors were above the regulatory deferral threshold and therefore their variable remuneration will be paid in instalments as set out below.

For each of these annual payments, half of the awards are made in cash. The Remuneration Code requires that the other half is retained for a further period of 12 months and is made in shares or, in the case of a non-listed business like the Society, an equivalent share-like instrument (SLI).

The table shows the percentage (where applicable) of variable remuneration which will be paid to executive directors in each year.

Variable Pay Scheme		2024	2025	2026	2027	2028	2029	2030	2031	2032	2033

CEO pay ratio

The CEO pay ratio compares the Chief Executive's pay to the employee population. It is calculated using the 'single total remuneration methodology'¹ which includes salary, variable pay, pension and taxable benefits. It is calculated by identifying the median total remuneration as well as the total remuneration at the 25th and 75th percentiles.

For 31 December 2024, these are set out below:

		25th percentile £	Median £	75th percentile £
2024	Total pay and benefits	32,326	43,389	64,120
	Salary	26,931	34,859	52,581
	CEO pay ratio	38:1	28:1	19:1
2023	CEO pay ratio	35:1	26:1	17:1

1. Calculated in accordance with the Companies (Miscellaneous Reporting) Regulations 2018.

Remuneration earned by Non-Executive Directors

Non-executive directors receive fees, which depend on their individual roles including whether they chair any committees, or hold positions such as Senior Independent Director or Deputy Chair. They are reimbursed for reasonable expenses but do not participate in any Society pension or bonus arrangements. Fees are reviewed annually, considering market data, annual pay increases awarded to all employees and the Society's performance.

A further review of fee levels was undertaken during 2024 in anticipation of the acquisition of The Co-operative Bank and the increased size, scope and time requirements of non-executive roles.
